

Year 3

The Emperor's New Clothes

When dressed in it, one mighty fancy that one has nothing at all!

We look at the tale of a vain emperor who falls for the trick that unworthy people won't be able to see the magical material of his new clothes.

Maths:

This term in maths we will be focusing on place value, addition and subtraction using practical methods.

English:

This half term, we are going to be inspired by the story 'The Emperor's New Clothes'. We will write character descriptions, setting descriptions and diary entries based on the story.

During reading, we will begin to develop positive attitudes to reading and an understanding of what has been read. We will work on increasing the legibility, consistency and quality of handwriting. Finally, we will recap the main features of the year 2 grammar curriculum and begin to introduce the year 3 curriculum.

Geography:

This half term we will use a digital/computer mapping to locate local area being studied and describe features studied, compare to aerial photo of same area. We will also use the 8 points of a compass to describe places relative to each other.

Art:

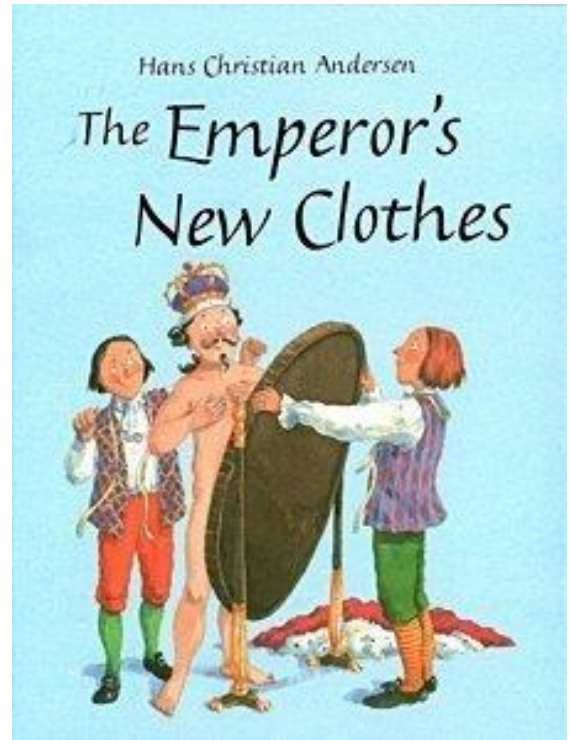

In Art, we will use a sketchbook to record observations. We will also use different types of lead pencil to scribble and shade.

D&T:

In D&T we will be looking at the skill of sewing. We will begin to introduce the backstitch and look at joining two materials together.

R.E:

In RE we will answer the question - How do festivals and family life show what matters to Jewish people?

Personal Development:

During this term, we will be learning about British Values.
